Headphones

John is a college student and is looking for a pair of headphones to listen to lectures. He works hard, is very mobile, and needs to get work done on the move. He is looking for some headphones that are functional and high quality. The headphones need to allow for clear sound, while blocking out the sounds around him. While Josh is in college, he takes many phone calls from family checking. Bluetooth headphones are preferred to allow for comfort on the move. He also loves listening to podcasts and jamming out when the time allows! Since he stays busy, a long-lasting battery life is preferred so he doesn't have to miss out on school, phone calls, or free time podcasts. Money is no object, Josh just wants the best bang for his buck.
